Is a small intimate wedding or elopement right
for you?

Small Weddings

- Friends and Family: you desire to be surrounded by people that you love the most, those that you'll know in 20 years. You want to share your wedding day with your closest family and friends.
- Attention Reflection: you prefer not to be the center of attention or have a lot of fuss and focus all on you.
- Easy: you want both the planning process and wedding day to be easy and stress free. Just the thought of the many details that go into a big wedding starts to freak you out.
- Outdoors Nature Lover: you are passionate about the outdoors with crazy-beautiful mountain backdrops.
- Special Memories: Colorado holds a special memory for you - family vacations, where you were engaged, where you met, or where you grew up.
- Adventure Seeker: maybe you've never been to Colorado, but it's on your bucket list - well, time to check it off!
- Something Simple: value simplicity over ornateness. Your style is laid-back, but with quality elements.
- Affordable: you gasp at the national average cost of a wedding of $33,000. Yep, that's right: you could use that for a downpayment on a house! Spending that much on a wedding is not for you. Though, you like quality experiences and travel.

If you checked off at least five of these items, then a small, intimate, elopement-style wedding is perfect for you! Please contact Wendee to get started with your planning!
